My Add-in Name ▼ ✕

The screenshot displays the Windows Phone Settings application. At the top, there is a header bar with a hamburger menu icon on the left, a '+ Command' button in the center, and an 'Undo' button with a curved arrow icon on the right. The main content area is titled 'Settings' and contains a section for 'Privacy and services'. Under this section, there are two toggle switches: 'Save password' which is currently turned 'On' (indicated by a blue bar), and 'Save form entries' which is turned 'Off' (indicated by a grey bar). Below these is the 'Map' section, which has three radio button options: 'Traffic' (selected with a pink dot), 'Satellite', and 'Terrain' (also marked with a pink dot). At the bottom of the settings list is the 'Clear data' option. A vertical scrollbar is visible on the right side of the settings list. The bottom of the screen features a grey bar with a circular 'Logo' placeholder and the text 'My Add-in Name'.
